He delights in blessing and surprising us, and Scripture continually shows us that He uses smallness and weakness to display His glory (1 Corinthians 1:27). Through this miracle, we can also learn that Jesus uses His disciples to be His arms and hands. Mark 6:41 depicts Jesus blessing the crowd through His disciples passing out the food.

What lessons can we learn from Jesus' feeding of the 5,000?

About The Book | Blessing The Hands That Feed Us

After saying a blessing, he begins breaking the bread and dividing up the fish. Then, rather than giving the food to the people directly, Jesus distributes it “to the disciples, the disciples in turn to the crowds.” ... He would follow a similar pattern —he would feed many through the hands of a few. Who, though, would be the few? Let us ...
